PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Fred Glass works with his clients to seize opportunities and solve problems. He provides counsel on business and other legal issues, public policy matters and strategy development to help his clients get things done. His clients include both emerging and established businesses, as well as individuals, trade associations and their members, tax-exempt organizations, governmental and quasi-governmental entities, and others.

Before joining Baker & Daniels, Fred served Indiana Governor Evan Bayh from 1989 through mid-1993, the last 2½ years as Chief of Staff. He was Chairman of Indianapolis Mayor Bart Peterson's Transition Team in 1999-2000. For four years, he served as Chairman of the Firm's Management Committee.

From 2000-07, Fred was President of the Marion County Capital Improvement Board of Managers which, among other things, owns and is responsible for the operation of the Indiana Convention Center, RCA Dome, Conseco Fieldhouse and Victory Field. He has also served in several other volunteer leadership positions in business, charitable, civic, governmental, political and other organizations at the national, state and local levels. Fred has been repeatedly recognized for both his legal skills and public service.
