

Mergers & Acquisitions

Our professionals represent both public and private companies involved in mergers, acquisitions, divestitures, leverage buyouts, tender and exchange offers, and other transactions involving the purchase or sale of businesses or assets. For each transaction, we form a team of lawyers with experience ranging from business law to real estate to address any concerns and maximize the value of a transaction to the buyer or seller we are representing.

In addition, our lawyers advise and counsel clients on the formation and operation of strategic alliances and joint ventures, which have become an increasingly important part of many clients' business strategy. We bring the same type of client-centered team approach to these types of transactions.

We take pride in our ability to assist clients in achieving their business objectives and are constantly striving to provide practical, solution-oriented advice. At Baker & Daniels, we value close working relationships with business owners and in house counsel. We recognize that our success derives only from the success of our clients.
